Work Experience

TINO IQ — Marketing Intern

May 2018 - March 2019

TINOIQ is a stock investment company that uses physics to predict the stock market.

As a marketing intern for the company, my duties included reaching out to investment advisers via email, keeping their facebook and twitter updated with exciting posts, and negotiating contracts with other business professionals.

Revamped the front end of their website and reached 5653 new users via facebook and twitter posts.

Health Level Inc — Front End Developer

April 2019 - Present

Health Level is a platform for hospitals that provides real-time clinical, financial, and operations data that radiologists, operation manager, physicians look to for insights.

Designed and delivered the first digital and standardized set of protocol forms for radiology orders in VA Minneapolis and 23 other VA hospitals totaling ~800,000 orders

Improved both web interface for both desktop and tablet users, resolved server deadlocks, created a printable interface, created a feature tracking the users' completion percentage, etc.
